Description: This book traces the rise of the Mughal dynasty in Agra right up to the building of the Taj Mahal. When its founder, Shah Jahan, was imprisoned by his successor, Aurangzeb, Agra's links with the febrile pulse of the nation were snapped, and it lost its importance. Three score years and three centuries later, the world comes to pay homage to these wraiths of history, and to marvel at the Empire that was. The Taj Mahal built by emperor in memory of his beloved consort, is the apogee of Mughal and magnificence.

Versailles

Author: Gerald Van Der Kemp

Publisher: Park Lane

Edition:

Book Size: 310mm x 250mm

Pages:

Volumes: 1

Condition: As New

Jacket Condition: As New

Binding: Hardcover

Description: Versailles has been described as the greatest expression of absolute monarchy in the world. A magnificent chateau set in a garden that is a triumph of landscape design. But it is much more, it is also a myth made real, for the glorious gardens and buildings, decoration and furniture, statues and foundations, were all designed as a supreme tribute to Apollo, making Versailles truly the palace of the sun king. Gerald Van Der Kemp is the director of the chateau museum and Trianon who has done so much since the last war to restore Versailles to its former glory. His lyrical text, rich in knowledge and affection, is matched by exceptionally fine illustrations, which not only the most famous features of the chateau, but also many little known and enchanting corners of the palace and its grounds. For those who already know Versailles, this book is an incomparable record. For those who have yet to visit the sun king's palace, there could be no finer introduction.
